

FRANCE

"I really enjoyed experiencing how young people in France live, compared to my life at home. I also loved that it was a complete immersion. I truly felt like a part of the culture." Rachel, Paris 2008

SPAIN

"I absolutely loved my family. They were extremely nice to me all the time. Everyone was very patient with my Spanish and tried to help me a lot. It was all I could have asked for." Hannah, San Sebastian 2008

GERMANY

"My host family was wonderful! Everyone was extremely friendly and helped me greatly while I tried to improve my German. I think my host family was an incredible part in my experience." Matt, Freiburg 2008

MEXICO

"The most beneficial aspects of my daughter's trip were the immersion in the Spanish language, the cultural experience and the program's ability to provide a safe environment." Randy, Mexico 2008

COSTA RICA

"I immediately felt like part of the family. They told me all about their past and life in general, which was great. It was a real mental workout every night! It was challenging, but enjoyable." Rosalind, Heredia 2008

ECUADOR

"Going to school and experiencing the excitement of the city with host families was such fun. My students' Spanish skills and confidence improved greatly and they got to experience life in the capital. We all learned so much." Lisa, Group Leader to Quito 2007

JAPAN

"My language skill improved beyond my expectations! The teachers were amazing and I left each class actually understanding the material." Kathryn, Fukuoka 2008

NEW ZEALAND

"Thank you so much for everything, ANDEO! I can't tell you how amazing this experience was!" Tygh, Mount Maunganui 2007

Why Homestays?

The homestay experience is central to everything we do at ANDEO. Our staff has lived in homestays around the world, and we understand the very real reward of living abroad with a family.

Our families are genuinely interested in sharing their language and culture, and in learning about yours! Families fill out an application form, have a personal interview, and are matched according to shared interests. A homestay is the best way to truly experience cultural immersion, practice your language skills, and make a life-long international connection!

ANDEO programs are right for you if...

- You have studied a foreign language for at least one year (two or three years required for some programs)
- You are excited about communicating in a foreign language
- You want to experience life as part of a family
- You are flexible and open-minded!
